Work on the new spur track that will provide transportation facilities for the Ford Motor company, will be started Tuesday morning and will be pushed to completion at the earliest possible date.

The contract for the rail has been awarded by the Southern Pacific company to Judge Willets. The rail for the full will be taken from the main right of way of the railroad.

The new spur which will be about 9,000 feet in length will branch off of the main line at Forty-seventh street, make a curve and then go on to Stecker avenue, and thence direct to the Ford plant.

Across what is known as the Gilmore tract, a heavy fill will have to be made.

It is the plan of the railroad company to have the new industrial spur completed by the time the new dock is ready to open for business.

This new spur will not only serve the Ford company, and the new docks, but in the future additional branches will be extended from it to take care of new industries.

Senate Farm Bloc In 'Home-Work' Study of Relief

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(U.P.)—The farm bloc is going back home over the week end to sound out opinion among men in the field regarding the debenture and the proposed tariff bill.

After organizing forces here, this independent group which wielded the balance of power during the first two months of President Hoover's special session, is breaking up for a two months' personal investigation of conditions and political sentiment in the hinterland.

Senator Norris is returning to Nebraska; Brookhart to Iowa by way of Texas; Nyet North Dakota; Walsh to Montana, while Wheeler, Frazier and LaFollette are making a trip through the northwest farm territory with the Indian investigating committee. They will reassemble here before the special session resumes August 19 to plan their program for the tariff fight.

"Home-Work"
Meanwhile individual members of the group have been assigned as "home-work" individual investigations of particular tariff schedules in order that they may be armed for the debate in the fall.

"Just how the group will attack the tariff problem is not yet decided. They have agreed they will hammer at the sugar and shoe schedules particularly, those being two items which affect every man, woman and child in the country. Before their program is definitely outlined, however, they wish to see the people back home, and (Continued on Page 3)

U. S. HOP PILOT FACES ARREST

FRESNO, June 22.—UP—As the Goetz plane Silvertown roared into the east tonight, on an attempted transcontinental record flight, a warrant for the arrest of the pilot, Lee Schoenhair, on a petitioned charge was held by local police.

The flight, which began at 3:41 a. m. today after a series of delays, might have been indefinitely postponed had the warrant arrived in Los Angeles sooner.

As it was, it reached the southern city just one hour after the Silvertown took off.

According to Chief of Police, W. G. Walker, the warrant was issued in behalf of A. S. Shadow, local jeweler, who charges that the flier gave him a check for $125 in payment for a wrist watch, and that the check came back marked not sufficient funds.

Shadow said Schoenhair promised to "make the check good," and that when the aviator failed to pay him he wired Schoenhair's relatives in Los Angeles. He said that relatives promised to redeem the check but that he "got nothing but promises" and finally decided to have a warrant issued.

The warrant is expected to be served on Schoenhair when he arrives in Los Angeles on his return flight.

MAN ADMITS MURDER OF WOMAN

SANTA ANA, June 22.—(U.P.)—A romance that culminated in a "suicide pact" was revealed here today by John L. Howard, Long Beach realtor, in his confession to the slaying of Mrs. Myrtle Wood.

After his confession he requested that he be taken into custody immediately to plead guilty to the murder of the woman, whose body was found a week ago bound at El Estero at Laguna Beach, near here.

Howard told police that both he and Mrs. Woods were desperate. "The woman," he said, "was in good health and worried because she thought her children were 'not treating her right.' He said he had been in ill health also.

He said that Mrs. Woods accompanied him to Laguna Beach last Thursday and while there they decided to carry out a "suicide pact" that they had discussed three weeks ago.

Shot Woman
At her request, he said, he shot her, but then because he did not want his body to be found, fled south to the Mexican border where he unsuccessfully attempted to commit suicide. He shot himself three times in the head but none of the wounds was serious.

Previous to his confession to Howard, Howard maintained that Mrs. Woods had been shot by highway men who had wounded him. For the first time he began to break under constant grilling by a night when he said that Mrs. Woods had shot herself.

Howard was found wandering about in a hazy condition near Tippecanoe Saturday, after a search had been instituted for him following the discovery of the woman's body.

FOUR FLIERS MISSING ON LONG HOP

NEW YORK, June 22.—(U.P.)—Four radio silenced and is whereabouts shrouded in mystery, the Spanish built, tri-motored hydroplane Dorner 16, making a one-stop flight to New York, was today the center of anxious interest in two hemispheres.

Uncertified reports were received in Madrid and in Lisbon that Commander Ramon Franco and his three flight companions had landed at the Azores. The wireless station at Azores, however, was unable to locate them. No word of their whereabouts had been had in the Azores, it was reported from Horta.

The radio station at Horta, at 6:40 p. m. issued a statement asserting that it had no information regarding reports credited as coming from Horta that the hydroplane had landed safely at San Miguel island, the extreme eastern member of the Azores group.

A report published in Lisbon that the Portuguese cruiser Vasco da Gama had intercepted a wireless message that the Dorner 16 had landed at the Azores and would continue to New York tomorrow, was denied later by the military wireless of Portugal, which said it had no news whatever of the Spanish fliers. The department of aeronautics of the Madrid war office attempted vainly throughout the day to get some confirmation of the report of the fliers' safe landing which had set all of Spain dancing and shouting with joy.

Howard was found wandering about in a hazy condition near Tippecanoe Saturday, after a search had been instituted for him following the discovery of the woman's body.

Southern Pacific agents, U. S. Postoffice inspectors and other police organizations are conducting the hunt.

Police expressed belief yesterday that the bandits were working under the impression that the $150,000 payroll of the Pittsburg steel mills was on the train.

Plans Well Laid
The bandits plans were well laid and executed to the minute. Early yesterday morning two men, guns slung upon their backs, boarded the eastbound Southern Pacific train No. 36 at Bay Point. The ticket agent told a police that he thought they were hunters.

The two bandits conversed with the passengers until the train neared the McAvoy crossing between Bay Point and Pittsburg. (Continued on Page 3)

The Winning Man

WHO is the most man in the world? There's a topic for summer girls to argue over.

While they are acquiring that sunken complexion, or sipping long, road drinks of iced tea?

The question, of course, may be blurred somewhat by the frequent absence of ALL men from summer resorts.

And the consequent rose-colored halos worn by the few who finally appear.

Summer time is also sentimental time, and many a girl may have one individual, more or less secret candidate for the title.

Of "The Nearest Man in the World."

Nevertheless, many modern girls run about the world so much that they really have enough experience and observation of different types and nationalities of men.

To come to some sort of conclusion as to which is the PRIZE man—Russian, Danish, French or even Prussian? If we remember our Gilbert—English, Italian, American, or what?

How many American girls, we wonder, will agree with the low-down on the different national characters of the OTHER sex.

As yet forth by two highly intelligent and observant young women—Helen Josephy and Mary Margaret McBride.

Who have just written that most fascinating and useful book, "Paris Is a Woman's Town."

Out of their own hard-won experience, these lively and gifted American girls give to others of their sex and nation simply invaluable tips.

About how to shop, eat, earn money, acquire culture and amuse oneself in that dear Paris.

But what will be of most interest to many of us, in their book, is their collection of lively pen-pictures of men of all nations—

1. will be lively reading for the men, too!

Here is the girls' sizzling, spicy, chuckling, caustic, frank and feminine size-up.

Of the Englishman, the Swiss, the South American, the Italian, the Central European, the Russian, the Scandinavian, the German, the Frenchman and even the Chinese:

"An Englishman is impossible unless he has enough money."

"Lack of it does something terrible to his self-respect."

"And in the end he takes this feeling out on whatever is nearest."

"An Englishman is always sentimental."

"Don't be surprised if he shows you his baby shoes."

"Or the heart-shaped locket he has carried on a chain since he was sixteen."

"Wear your best evening clothes whenever he invites you to dine and dance."

"If you really want to please him."

"Be nice to his sister, especially if she is a beauty."

"Conservative and well-balanced American women always take to Swiss men."

"They are usually good dancers, good at sports—good, in fact, at anything."

"They take their affairs hard, so don't try light flirtations with them."

"Their object, if interested at all, is matrimony."

"The South American is dangerous because, having plenty of money and being willing to spend it."

"He is generally spoiled by women."

"He is also fickle, but a delightful person to know."

"If you are well-protected by Mamma and are fond of orchids and tea at the Ritz."

"The aristocratic Italian is adorably sweet and understanding and can be an ideal lover."

"He attaches great importance to a woman's constancy."

"But looks pained if she suggests that constancy ought to work both ways."

"The Italian is the most dangerous man in Europe and a much better companion indoors than out."

"Don't take him seriously when he talks of duels for love of you."

MODERNISTIC

Chop suey, although not recognized in China, is built upon a dietary law ascribed to Confucius, that man should eat less meat than vegetables.

Many true Chinese dishes consist of one-third meat and two-thirds vegetables.

The recipe for chop suey calls for a smaller proportion of meat and a larger amount of vegetables than is usual in meat and vegetable combinations.

In these days of balanced diets chop suey supplies a need. The ease and despatch with which it may be prepared for the table are not without merit.

Variations of chop suey are many. Every imaginative cook follows her taste and her larder in selecting and combining the materials. Mrs. R. P. B. Bookville Centre, N. Y., concocted this really excellent:

TOMATO CHOP-SUEY (4)

Generous one-half pound lean pork.
One tablespoon fat or oil.
One tablespoon soy sauce.
Three large onions, minced.
Two cups celery and tops.
One green pepper, minced.
One large cup solid tomatoes.
One tablespoon soy sauce.
One tablespoon sugar.
One tablespoon Chinese brown sauce.
One tablespoon Chinese rice wine.
One tablespoon Chinese vinegar.
One tablespoon Chinese oil.
One tablespoon Chinese salt.

Boiling water to cover.

Put the pork in the frying pan and fry until tender. Then add the onions, celery and green pepper. Stir well and add the solid tomatoes, the sugar, the soy sauce, the Chinese brown sauce, the Chinese rice wine, the Chinese vinegar, the Chinese oil, the Chinese salt, and the boiling water. Cook gently until the vegetables are tender. Then add the celery and tops. Stir well and serve.

Redeeming the Room Gone Wrong

By Alma Zaiis

Dear Miss Zaiis:

I have been trying for two years to make my small apartment cheerful and bright and livable, but somehow whatever I do seems to be wrong. I am rather limited as to amount I may spend, but know that even with that disadvantage I can make my living room an interesting one with the proper advice as to material and color.

We lose brightness and favor very strongly the bright chintzes and cretonnes, if possible. My living room is 15 by 21 1/2 feet. The woodwork is finished in a very dark mahogany; the walls are rough plaster finished in ivory with a slight greenish tint. I want to cover my three-piece set with attractive slip-covers. My davenport is very plain. The two chairs have square, flat cushioned arms and not very high backs.

The rug is a 12 by 12 figured Mohawk Karak, with ground of dark mottled taupe, figures conventional; the border is dark blue patterned in mulberry. A little olive green and black. The furniture is mostly antique, and I am the proud possessor of a croch mahogany secretary 110 years old, has three deep drawers below and solid mahogany panels at the top; an old chair, an old sewing table with drop leaves, a patching table, not antique, and a bookshelf which also holds our radio.

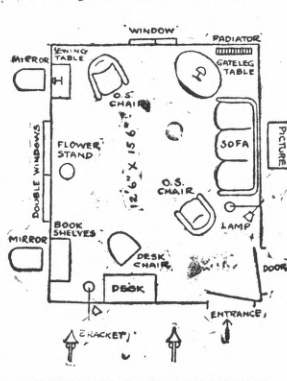

On each side of security on the wall I have two old brackets with my old brass candlesticks; on wall next to window I have a wall panel in quaint design done in black, cream, yellow and red. It was a skirt worn by the head-mistress long ago. Over my sewing table and bookshelves I have two very old mahogany mirrors; over the davenport a large and very good steel engraving in a wide gold frame. On the table I have a blue glazed vase made into a lamp; the shade is parchment, with a design in red, green, purple and blue. For a table cover I am using the ash of my wall panel.

I will not describe the coverings on chairs and davenport, as I cannot possibly use them this summer as they are. My bedroom is 12 by 12 1/2 feet. I have three pieces of furniture in it, a walnut bed, dresser and an old walnut chest of drawers. Woodwork is ivory, wall paper has a background of gray with sprays of wild roses in shades between rose and salmon pink; the leaves are in gray bordered in black. I have two hook rugs that I made, both in the same shades of gray and salmon. I am afraid I am asking a great deal of you, but do feel that you can help me to have a cheerful, attractive little home. I am a very content and interested reader of every one of your articles. Thanking you in advance for your help.

WITH THE HELP OF COLOR AND SOFT GREEN FERNS BEFORE THE WINDOW THIS WELL-BALANCED GROUP PRESENTS A VERY PLEASANT PICTURE AS ONE ENTERS.

love to prescribe for this room—particularly since Mrs. D. has expressed a fondness for them. But the figured rug now in use has made itself the dominant element of design, and directs our choice along plain lines. For the summer season, with the ivory walls and woodwork and rug colors, including taupe, blue, mulberry, olive green and black, would be good to use both summer and winter use. With the introduction of gold and the light mulberry curtains the room will have plenty of life and color. It is most important, of course, to have the slip-covers fitted snugly. We have quite outgrown the baggy covers of another day, and now no self-respecting sofa or chair allows itself to appear in a slovenly dress. A four-inch box-pleated ruffle bound with a half-inch band of gold and now no self-respecting sofa or chair allows itself to appear in a slovenly dress. furniture which will give good balance and comfort, the chief change from Mrs. D.'s original arrangement being the new position of the bookcase and sewing table, moved to the positions at either side of the double window. The head-hunter's skirt used as a wall hanging seems a little out of key with the colors and designs in the room, and we would use it elsewhere, perhaps in the foyer. The table runner can also be dispensed with.

The sofa and large overstuffed chairs in need of recovering can be

Bedroom and Bath Linens

ALMOST as magic as their touch in the dining room is the influence of color and pattern upon the lesser linens for the household. It brings the vogue to have linens for the bedroom in tints harmonizing with the color scheme of the room; and the same is true for the bath.

Sheets and pillow cases in exquisite pastel shades are available now at every store. And bath, hand, guest and even kitchen towels appear in the most extravagant array of colors and patterns, most luxurious among them being the colored damask towels and creamy linen damask with hand-painted motifs in pastel colors which can be laundered perfectly.

If the household is small—let us say with two beds and one bath—the bride will need:

Bed Linens

1 pair embroidered sheets (linen).
1 pair embroidered pillow cases (linen).
6 fine percale sheets.
6 fine percale pillow cases.
Olive bedding should include:
2 pairs blankets.
2 blankets covers.
2 bed spreads.
2 mattress protectors.

Bath and Kitchen Linens

1 dozen bath towels.
1 dozen wash cloths.
2 bath mats.
1 dozen linen damask guest towels.
3 dozen linen bedroom towels.
1 dozen linen glass towels.
1 dozen kitchen towels.
1 dozen kitchen hand towels.

The Raw Foods

SERVE raw foods as salads. Here are half a dozen good combinations:

1. Pineapple, apple and celery.
2. Cantaloupe, grapefruit and marshmallow cherries.
3. Pineapple, apple, orange, grapefruit and chopped almonds with a mayonnaise dressing to which cream cheese has been added.
4. Pears sprinkled with lemon juice and cream cheese.
5. Shredded cabbage, chopped green pepper and grated carrot.
6. Tomatoes stuffed with diced celery, pineapple and cream cheese sprinkled with chopped nuts, garnished with watercress and served with mayonnaise.

Variety may be produced both in the French and mayonnaise dressing by using different flavorings.

mounted on the outside of the trim. Or, if draped curtains are preferred, this can be accomplished with a pretty metal tie-back of brass.

The hook rugs will be delightful in this room and a candlewick bedspread in the natural unbleached muslin would further emphasize the colonial note. Two little lamps of pinkish glass or pink pottery with red and pink shades could be added as color accents.

Two rules for Mrs. D. to remember are the following: When rugs or walls are definitely patterned the best effect is obtained with plain draperies and upholstery. And when the plain or color could be chosen with a fine regard for the dominating color note in the design.

Mulberry and blue are the important colors in the living-room rug. We have developed this scheme by increasing the mulberry in lighter tones, introducing gold as a friendly color to enliven the scheme, and using blue as an accent. In the bedroom we have given the wild rose pattern on the walls and roses in the rug the support of plain rose draperies, ivory and gray and the green in the rug furnishing the other elements of the color scheme.

If the suggestions given are carried out with reasonable skill these two rooms cannot fail to be both homelike and cheerful.

THE SATURATION POINT IN SPITZBERGEN

ACCORDING to statistics of the Department of Commerce, there are 24,000,000 automobiles in the United States. This means a rumble seat to every person. In other words, every inhabitant of America could be seated at one time in an automobile without sitting on any one's lap. There are lots of girls, however, who are not taking advantage of these statistics.

Department of Commerce figures also show other sterling facts. Great Britain has 1,318,169 motor vehicles. France has 1,098,000 cars, of which at least 1,098,000 must be taxicabs that honk under your hotel window from 11:30 P. M. to 8 A. M.

Spain, Switzerland, Mexico and Japan have various quantities of automobiles. There is no need of giving the exact figures as you would forget them anyway. But the statistic that catches our eye is the one that states Spitzbergen has only one automobile—a passenger car.

We do not know whether Spitzbergen is a country or a breed of dogs. But we will split the difference and call it a fair-sized city. In fact, we will even do more than that. We will look it up in The World Almanac and discover that Spitzbergen is an island with an area of 25,000 square miles or larger than the whole of Nova Scotia. Can you imagine being the only motorist in a broad space like that?

Let us assume the name of the only Spitzbergen automobile owner is Olaf Bjohnsen. It would be something like that, anyhow. Each year when he renews his registration, Mr. Bjohnsen does not have to pull any strings to get a low number plate. He sends his $10 down to the capital and he knows he will get No. 1.

When he takes Mrs. Bjohnsen out for a little spin in the cool of the evening,

MARQUETTE SIX COUNTIES TO GET ROAD FUNDS LAUDED BY MANY

Highway development in many sections of California, particularly in mountain areas, will be given new impetus by reason of Governor Young's approval of a legislative vehicle funds to each county before division of this fund on the basis of registration. The highways bureau of the California State Automobile association points out that the fifteen California counties greatest in area yet smallest in population will be the chief beneficiaries of this change in county road fund apportionment; and these counties are generally located in the state's mountain areas.

Though sparse in population and hence having small motor vehicle registrations, the very location of the counties in scenic areas makes them popular touring objectives. It was on the theory that modern highway financing, not where they are located, but where traffic need demands, that this legislation was supported by the automobile association. Federal highway funds are thus apportioned and this is the basic principle of the expenditure of state highway funds.

Under the old system of apportionment of the motor vehicle funds to counties on the basis of registration only, some fifteen counties received but a nominal sum. These counties nevertheless had serious highway construction and maintenance problems to meet.

Many of these counties are burdened by a heavy influx of summer travel, while their own automobile registrations are numbered in the hundreds. The result has been that roads leading to some of the most popular touring objectives in the state have not been brought up to the standard that traffic justified.

Counties to be benefited by the act, with the amounts they will receive above their last apportionment, are:

Alpine, $19,707.87; Amador, $8,222.47; Del Norte, $12,945.91; El Dorado, $5,853.41; Inyo, $5,219.53; Lake, $16,720.00; Mariposa, $13,319.67; Modoc, $9,434.96; Mono, $17,388.56; Plumas, $9,117.65; Sierra, $15,719.98; Trinity, $16,877.33; Tuolumne, $32,174.9.

Colusa, Glenn, Lassen, San Benito, Shasta and Yuba counties will receive increases ranging downward from $100.

The last of the mountain roads in Yosemite National Park—Tioga Pass, has been freed from winter snow. This famous and scenic trans-Sierra Highway, which connects Mono Lake with Yosemite Valley and provides a road between Tahoe and Yosemite has been opened up somewhat earlier than usual this year with the aid of snow removal machinery. The road is reported to be in fair condition, according to information just received by the touring bureau of the California State Automobile association, although it is somewhat muddy at the summit of the pass, which has an elevation of 9,914 feet. The Sonora Pass road to Bridgeport is also open.

No part of a Chrysler car is so small, its function so insignificant as to be slighted during the period of probation on which it is put, before being assembled in the completed product, according to Harry Curry, local Chrysler dealer.

In the huge engineering building of Chrysler Motors at Highland Park, Detroit, hundreds upon hundreds of accessories are constantly being tested for the Chrysler "65", "75" and Imperial cars.

Not only are devices invented by Chrysler engineers put to the most rigid tests before being adapted for use in these products, but all equipment submitted by outside manufacturers for use in these cars is also subjected to the most minute examination, so they will live up to the high standards set for all Chrysler-built products.

To the largest entering experimental room in this laboratory, it appears that a hundred Rube Goldberg engineering cartoons have suddenly come to life. Here, without apparent rhyme or reason, many different types of motor car accessories are performing those duties they will eventually perform in a car.

Dozens of windshield wipers, electric and pneumatic, attached to panes of glass, moving back and forth, for days on end go through the motions of wiping water from a windshield. After exhaustive tests, they are stopped and examined for wear. If it is found they have given the amount of service a windshield wiper would be called upon to give during a definite period and are still in good working order a record is made. Some day, that particular type of windshield wiper may be used on a Chrysler car, should it reach the standard set for all other parts in these automobiles.

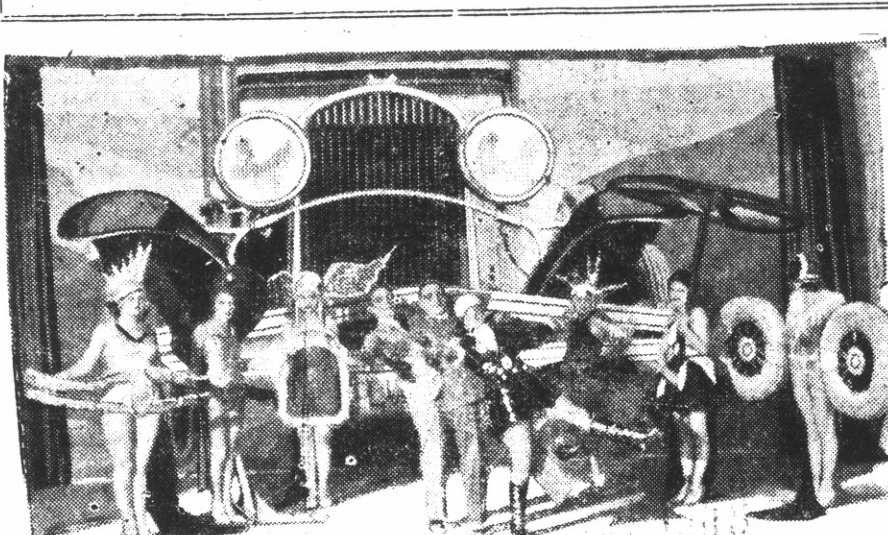

In another part of the room, dozens of electric switches such as are used for taillight lights, are being turned on and off, and off and on by rods connected to electric motors. These switches also must be able to perform after they have functioned longer than they would be required to in an automobile.

Paints and lacquers submitted for examination by manufacturers for use on Chrysler cars also undergo severe treatment. Panels painted various colors are subjected to the light from an ultraviolet ray lamp, which has the same effect on the paint as do the rays of the sun. Any color that fades, cracks or blisters as a result of this treatment, will never find its place in the color scheme of a Chrysler car.

In a separate soundproof building, but a part of the laboratory, horns designed for use on Chrysler cars are also tested. Hundreds of horns of different types too in endless cacophony, hour in and hours out, in order to prove which are the best to use. Any horn which cannot stand longer and more continuous use than would be actually required in an automobile, cannot be installed in a Chrysler car.

It is this demand for perfection in the smallest detail which shows how Chrysler Motors produces the highest standard of quality in its finished products.

Chrysler Stars In Show

GRACE, SPEED featured a recent musical show in Warsaw, Poland: The reproduction of the radiator and front of a Chrysler "75" formed the background for one of the scenes while a trio of dancers depicted the speed and grace of the Chrysler.

Tioga Road Open To Auto Drivers

The last of the mountain roads in Yosemite National Park—Tioga Pass, has been freed from winter snow. This famous and scenic trans-Sierra Highway, which connects Mono Lake with Yosemite Valley and provides a road between Tahoe and Yosemite has been opened up somewhat earlier than usual this year with the aid of snow removal machinery. The road is reported to be in fair condition, according to information just received by the touring bureau of the California State Automobile association, although it is somewhat muddy at the summit of the pass, which has an elevation of 9,914 feet. The Sonora Pass road to Bridgeport is also open.

NEW BILL TO AID AUTO DRIVER

Guests on automobile rides in California may no longer hold the owner of the car responsible in the event of an accident, except the accident be caused by the gross negligence, wilful misconduct or intoxication of the driver.

The California State Automobile association reports that a new law to this effect becomes effective August 14 as the result of Governor C. C. Young's approval of the bill introduced in the 1929 legislature by Senator Fred C. Hardy. The bill limits the liability of an owner, driver or person responsible for the operation of a vehicle for the injury or death of a guest. A "guest" is defined as any person who accepts a ride in any vehicle without giving compensation therefor.

The bill provides that any person who as a guest accepts a ride in any vehicle moving on any public highway in California and is injured while so riding shall have no right of recovery against the owner, driver or person responsible for the operation of the vehicle. In a similar manner, it provides that in the event of death of the guest resulting from an accident, the estate nor heirs shall have no right of recovery, and if the guest be a minor, the parents,

Watch Road Signs While Making Trip

While driving in confusing traffic is not a question of speeding, but of minimizing the time taken by shifting of gears and accelerating. The ability to shift quickly, think quickly, stop, lagging and avoid getting off on the wrong road will suffice to cut down the running time considerably, according to the public safety department of the California State Automobile association.

Keep Close Check On Balloon Tires

Check the tire pressure on your car regularly. Even balloons can be harmed by underinflation. The softer the tires the longer it takes for body rattles and squeaks to be heard, and if the tires are much softer than they should be they are also wearing faster than they should.

Registration Of Cars On Increase

Motor vehicle registration in the world has increased over 400 percent in the last ten years, reports the National Automobile club. The 1918 registration was less than 8,000,000, the 1928 registration over 31,000,000.

Guardians, estate or heirs shall have no right of recovery. The exception provided to these provisions is that the owner or driver shall not be relieved of liability for the death or injury of a guest resulting from intoxication, wilful misconduct or gross negligence of the owner or driver, in which case the burden of proof shall be on the plaintiff.

Travel Condition On Lassen Road

Travel conditions on Lassen-Volcanic highway were reported today by the touring bureau of the California State Automobile association as follows:

From Red Bluff to Lake Almanor and Susanville, tolled to Dales ranch; thence graded and graded road; one section of new road being used and also one section of the old road; both in fair condition. The road is a bit rough just east of the Inskip Grade. There is a short detour just beyond Payne's Creek. Good tolled road continues to Mineral Springs. Road conditions are generally good to Chester, Westwood and Susanville.

The road from Chester to Drakesbad Springs is good to Keely's Camp and a trifle rough between this point and Drakesbad. The road from Chester to Juniper Lake is open although it is still rough.

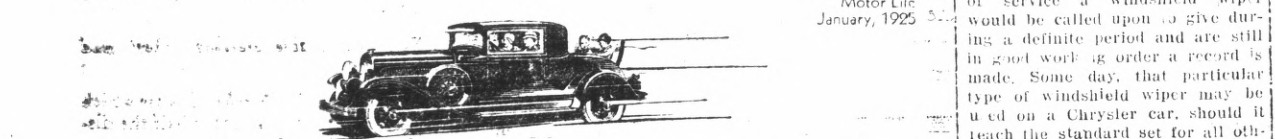

Safety Suggestion To Auto Drivers

If a driver surprises you by making a sudden left turn directly in your path, never try to swing around to the left of him. Always aim for the opening between the curb and the rear of his car, applying the brakes at the same time. The chances are that if he continues to carry out his plan he will be out of your way by the time you reach the spot and if he makes the mistake of stopping you will collide with him in the less dangerous position.

NOW—AS THEN—YOU HEAR "CHRYSLER" EVERYWHERE!

"Not merely a new note in motoring—a new school in engineering and performance, is the Chrysler. Height, weight, balance, acceleration, power, appearance—these are some of the things Chrysler has revolutionized. Make no mistake—you are witnessing the rise of new principles in motor manufacture which are profoundly affecting all motor car design."

—Advertisement Motor Life January, 1925

WHAT IS CHRYSLER ENGINEERING?

It is a matter of opinion as to who did most in creating the automobile, but it is a matter of fact that Chrysler has done most in modernizing it.

Chrysler engineering, analyzed in simple terms, is a combination of far-sighted vision and resourceful genius that succeeds in accomplishing inspired improvements. In one word, Chrysler engineering is... Progress.

This is not a vainglorious gesture—it is a statement of plain, hard-shell fact fully borne out by the following partial list of advancements which Chrysler has pioneered, developed or popularized:

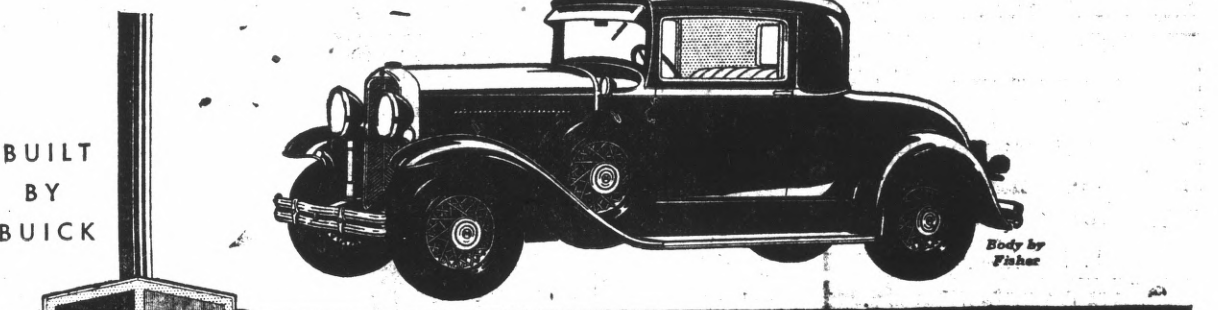

Hydraulic Four-Wheel Brakes
Rubber Shock Insulators
"Silver-Dome" and "Red Head" High-compression Engines
High Turbulence Offset Combustion Chamber
Fully Counter-weighted 7-Bearing Crankshaft

Non-wearing Chilled Cast-Iron Face Tappets
Iso-therm Iavar Strut Pistons with Tungsten Rings
Rubber Engine Mountings
Modern Plain Tube Carburetion—with Positive Pressure Pump Acceleration and Semi-Automatic Choke Valve
Indirect Lighting of Instrument Panel
Small Diameter Road Wheels
Modern Roadster Body Type
Beaded Belt Moulding and Modern Body Color Treatment

The Chrysler you buy today is the direct beneficiary of all the progress that Chrysler engineering has made in the five years of its brilliant history. Let us give you a demonstration.

NASH LAUDED BY LOCAL DEALER

An inspection of the new Nash "400" Standard Six series by one unfamiliar with the Nash line serves inevitably to recreate completely all previous ideas of motor car style, luxury and performance in the popular priced field, according to Roy K. Dorr, local Nash dealer.

"Radically advanced in every feature of appearance and engineering, the '400' Standard Six is a modern development of striking character," Dorr declared.

"It has a new type, high turbulence, high compression, L-head, seven-bearing motor with torsional vibrator damper. Bonalite aluminum pistons, with Invar struts, and new carburetor and manifold design.

"The high turbulence principle results in greater vaporizing efficiency and greater economy, high compression increases power, the Bonalite pistons lighten reciprocating weight and increase speed, the torsional vibration damper eliminates vibration periods, while the L-head type of motor construction is admittedly the most favorable type for highest quality manufacturing in the lower-priced field.

"This new type of motor makes these cars—exceptionally fast, easily capable of 65 to 70 miles per hour and lightning quick getaway."

"The new type sedan bodies are of the same design and expert craftsmanship as those in the Advanced and Special Six series. They are built on a long wheelbase with a new type of double drop forged frame and with the springs, individually designed for each model and fitted with four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers. The result is riding comfort of the most luxurious quality.

"The steering mechanism not only sharply reduces the turning radius, but gives wonderfully fast and easy steering."

Drivers Shouldn't Ride The Clutch

Keep the feet on the floor of the car when driving, and not on the brake or clutch pedal, warns E. G. Evans, general service manager for the National Automobile club. Riding the clutch is a most extravagant habit, since the resulting slippage between the plate will cause undue wear.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY RAIL CROSSINGS

Launching a state-wide survey of railroad grade crossings on California's motor routes, the California Committee on Public Safety is taking steps to formulate a definite program for elimination of these hazards of the highway. It was announced today by Senator Arthur H. Breed, chairman of the committee. The grade crossing problem is one of the most serious angles of the traffic accident problem, according to Senator Breed, who is known as the father of the California Vehicle Act. The California committee of Public Safety is a state wide group formed by representatives of state departments concerned with the traffic problem, motoring organizations, associations of city, county and enforcement officials and other groups. It is conducting a movement for the reduction of traffic accidents through education, regulation and adequate enforcement.

Senator Breed announced the appointment of a committee to conduct the grade crossing survey on which recommendations will be based for formulation of a definite policy by the state for elimination of such crossings. This committee consists of:

A. G. Mott, chief engineer, State Railroad Commission, chairman; E. E. East, chief engineer, Automobile Club of Southern California; C. C. Cottrell, manager, highway bureau, California State Automobile association; Walter D. Cole, representing the steam railroads; W. V. Hill, Electric Railways association; G. P. Irvine, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers; and C. H. Purcell, state highway engineer.

Senator Breed cited figures from railroad commission reports to show the increasing toll of grade crossing accidents. There were 1,740 grade crossing accidents in 1927, as compared with 1,217 in 1926. There were 194 persons killed and 763 injured in the 1927 toll as compared with 139 killed and 689 injured in the 1926 toll of grade crossings. The majority of the killed and injured were passengers in vehicles, there being 135 killed and 572 injured in this class during 1926 and 189 killed and 726 injured during 1927.

Periodical examination of the more important working parts of the automobile will prove the owner's cheapest and most efficient form of insurance against accident and delay, remarks L. G. Evans, general service manager for the National Automobile club.

Musical Speedsters

STUDEBAKER CHAMPIONS radio entertainers don racing outfits for one of their popular programs over the NBC chain on Sunday nights. The uniforms worn by the musician are like those worn by automobile racers at the speedway.

Clean Windshield Aids Car Drivers In Safety Move

Careful drivers keep windshields clean.

This is the gist of the latest safety message of the California Committee on Public Safety which is coordinating the efforts of thirty organizations and state departments in a state-wide campaign to reduce the traffic accident toll. The California State Automobile association, one of the organizations represented on the committee, adds the further advice that "a clean windshield is the world's best non-glare device." Any motorists who have driven at night with a dirty windshield should appreciate this advice. The committee's bulletin, broadcast throughout the state, reads:

"Your automobile may be mechanically perfect, but unless you are a careful driver, you may cause an accident that will result in the death or injury of yourself or somebody else."

"Remember, even the most expert drivers aren't cautious enough at dusk or twilight when there isn't artificial light or daylight to make objects distinguishable at ordinary distance. Clean windshields help to prevent accidents."

Twenty-five percent of the United States lead production is used in motor vehicle manufacture, according to the California State Automobile association.

SAFETY URGED IN SUMMER TRAFFIC

The season of heavy traffic on rural roads and highways is with us and it brings need of repeating a warning against many practices that cause avoidable accidents. One of the worst of these practices is the average motorist's failure to pull out of the line of traffic when changing a tire or making some small adjustment or repair to the car.

While there are regulations covering this situation based on sound principles of public safety, enforcement is a difficult matter, and the individual motorist should abide by this safety principle under any condition. With higher speeds and heavier traffic prevailing on our highways, it becomes more and more imperative that the motorist who needs to make a roadside repair should take the precaution to move the car from the path of fast-moving traffic.

Many states have a specific regulation requiring that the car be driven at least half way off the highway in such circumstances. The California law, according to the legal department of the California State Automobile association, is found in section 138 of the Vehicle Act which reads:

"No person shall park or leave standing any vehicle whether attended or unattended upon the paved or improved or main traveled portion of any public highway, outside of a business or residence district, when it is practicable to park or leave such vehicle off of the paved or improved or main traveled portion of such highway; provided, in no event shall any person park or leave standing any vehicle whether attended or unattended upon any public highway unless a clear and unobstructed width of not less than fifteen feet upon the main traveled portion of said highway opposite such standing vehicle shall be left for the free passage of other vehicles thereon."

"The provisions of this section shall not apply to the driver of any vehicle which is disabled while on the paved or improved or main traveled portion of a public highway in such manner and to such extent that it is impossible to avoid stopping and temporarily leaving such vehicle in such position."

STUDEBAKERS LAUDED BY RACER

The ability of Studebaker's patented ball bearing spring shackles to stand up under the most severe type of service is emphasized in a recent statement made by Ralph Hepburn, noted racing driver, according to L. J. Thomas, local Studebaker dealer.

Hepburn was one of the pilots who drove four Studebaker President eights to new world speed and endurance records in the 30,000 mile run held at the Atlantic City speedway last summer. Since the completion of the run he has been driving No. 1 roadster, the car which finished the 30,000 miles in 26,326 minutes—on a tour of the country that has taken him through 29 states and registered more than 52,000 miles on the speedometer.

"The ball bearing spring shackles on my car are functioning perfectly, without the least noise and with no appreciable wear," Hepburn said. "To the best of my knowledge the only attention they had was ordinary lubrication at the completion of the 30,000 mile run, when they were examined by Studebaker engineers. Since then they have had no attention whatever, in spite of the fact that during my travels in the south this spring the car has had the hardest kind of service, resulting from detours made necessary by flooded roads."

Auto Deaths In S. F. Decreasing

Of the six Pacific Coast cities with a population of more than 100,000 San Francisco, Seattle and Portland show a decrease in automobile fatalities for the first four months of 1929. Los Angeles, Oakland and Spokane show an increase for the same period, reports the National Automobile club. The total for the six mentioned cities shows an increase of two fatalities for the first four months of 1929 as contrasted with a similar period in 1928. The figures are: 1928, 235; 1929, 237.

The same condition is reported by Ab Jenkins, transcontinental record breaker and another of the 30,000 mile run pilots. Jenkins is touring with the second of the two roadsters which covered 30,000 miles of battered board speedway and finished three minutes behind the leader. Jenkins' roadster has traveled more than 51,000 miles, but as in the case of Hepburn's car the ball bearing shackles have had no other attention than inspection and lubrication at the end of the grueling test run.

SILENT GEAR SHIFT EASY

Easy gear shifting is a matter of "feel." A skillful motorist has an uncanny sense of touch enabling him to change quickly and silently. A good plan is to depress clutch, shift from low to neutral, then from neutral to second, and release. This double maneuver almost invariably assures a silent shift.

Parking Tip Given Driver

When you have parked the car and want to leave the machine in gear as a double precaution against rolling away it sometimes happens that no shift can be made. When this happens it simply means that the gears are all in the wrong position and that in a slight turn of the main driving gear will bring them into correct position for shifting. Don't bother to start the engine just step on the starter and instant, advises the free emergency road service of the California State Automobile association. One turn of the engine shaft will solve your problem.

Christian Science Subject For Sunday

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of the Mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The citations which comprise the lesson-sermon will include the following from the Bible: "Of old hath thou laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thy hands. They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment; as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed: But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end." (Ps. 102:25-27.)

The lesson-sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The seasons will come and go with changes of time and tide, cold and heat, latitude and longitude. The agriculturist will find that these changes cannot affect his crops. As a vesture shalt Thou change them, and they shall be changed—The astronomer will no longer look up to the stars—he will look out from them upon the universe, and the florist will find his flowers before its seed" (p. 125.)

NEGRO FILM TO OPEN HERE TUESDAY

When "Hearts in Dixie" Fox Movietone production with an all colored cast is seen and heard on the screen of the Fox-California theater next Tuesday it is almost certain that the singing of the spirituals and folk songs will linger in the memories of all who hear them for a long time.

Particularly will this be true of "Lonesome Road," the strains of which bring the story to a close when "Nappus," played by Clarence Muse, an old negro, takes his son "Chincapin" to the levee to board the "Nelly Rly" for his journey north and for an education.

It is patent that the old man will never see his boy again and the boat pulls up stream the roustabouts croon:

"Lock down, lock down that lonesome road,
Hanging down yo' head an' cry."

The best of friends must part some time,
An' why not you an' I?
"True love, true love, what have I done,
That you should treat me so?"

You caused me to walk and talk with you
Like I never done befo'."

The history of "Lonesome Road" is somewhat vague. Evelyn Cary Williams of Lynchburg, Virginia, who has made extensive researches on the subject of folk songs was unable to trace the origin of "Lonesome Road," other than to find it was taken down from the singing of Charles Galloway a black man, uneducated, and a worker on the roads in Virginia.

"Hearts in Dixie" abounds in spirituals rendered by a mixed chorus of 60 voices and faithfully reproduced in the screen through the medium of Fox Movietone.

Paul Sloane directed the picture and the cast of principals numbers in its personnel such well known colored players as Clarence Muse, Bernice Pitt, Eugene Jackson, Stepin Fetchit, Clifford Ingram and Mildred Washington.

VOICE OF CITY WILL OPEN SUNDAY

When Willard Mack, eminent stage star and playwright, began to film "The Voice of the City," his all-talking picture, a Cosmopolitan production for Metro Goldwyn Mayer, which will open at the Fox-California theater today, it was not by any means his introduction to a film studio.

Willard Mack was a star in pictures when stars were few and far between, in 1913, the days when Charles Ray, Bill Hart and others were just making a start. Mack made a long series of pictures, starting with "The Battle of Gettysburg," directed by Thomas H. Ince, but he returned to the stage to fulfill the insistent demands of New York producers for the type of plays which have made his fame.

"The Voice of the City," a one hundred percent talking picture, permitted Mr. Mack to give to the screen the same type of play which has made him America's most consistently successful playwright. Mack's greatest stage successes include "The Common Sense," "The War," "The Rose," "The Man Who Came Back," "The Scarlet Fox," "Lily Sue," "Weather Clear," "The Noose" and "The Big Chance."

"The Voice of the City" is a fast moving story relating the chase of an escaped convict by a detective, and the romance and final clearing of the name of the convict. Playing in it are Robert Ames, Duane Thompson, Sylvia Field, Alice Moe, Beatrice Bayard, John Miljan, Tom McGuire, Clark Marshall and James Farley. Also on the bill is another sound cartoon called "The Marionettes."

Polar Bear Captured By Rope In Film

Some of the wildest of wild west stunts are tame in comparison with the lassoing of a polar bear on a cake of ice. There is only one thing to do when the wire rope lands over the bear's head, and that is get away from there.

For the first time in the history of motion pictures is to be shown in the Fox film, "The Great White North," which is to show at the Richmond theater today only.

Sidney Snow and a group of men pursued the bear with camera in a small boat. The enormous animal was bewildered for a few seconds by the feeling of the rope about his neck and this saved his captors. They rowed hurriedly away to their schooner and tried to tow the animal toward the ship with a wildlass. When they got him on board a terrific struggle ensued to get him in a wooden cage.

Credit Car Sales Decrease Reported

Credit sales of automobiles in the United States were 10 percent less in 1928 than in 1925, reports the National Automobile club. Fifty-eight percent of the new cars sold during 1928 were paid for on a time basis.

Carquinez Stock Assessments Due

Reports from the directors of the Hotel Carquinez yesterday showed that a majority of the assessments against the stock has been paid.

The assessment becomes delinquent after July 1. After that date and before July 22, any stockholder paying must pay in addition to the assessment the cost of advertising.

The stock will be sold on July 22 for unpaid assessments and as the amount is small in comparison to the value of the stock, it is expected that the full $20,000 sought will be secured.

"NOAH'S ARK," starring Dolores Costello and featuring George O'Brien, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel. It is based upon the scenario by Darryl Francis Zanuck.

Three friends, Ivan, Armand, and Emil, the French girl, Marie, two Americans, Travis and Al, and a priest, meet on a Continental train. The three friends quarrel over the girl, but Travis and Al rescue her and escape to Paris.

Marie believes Travis intends marriage, but he and Al return to America. Three years later Marie, heartbroken, finds the priest and the three friends at a dressing station. An air raid, Marie is unconscious. In the days of Noah, Miriam, Japheth's betrothed, is stolen to become a sacrifice to Japheth, and Japheth is imprisoned. Miriam is bound to the Idol of Sin.

CHAPTER XVIII—Continued

Wild, mad cries rose from every throat. Flowers filled the air. People danced up and down, rending their garments, striking at each other in the sheer joy of bloodlust. Once more the gong rang out, quelling the shrill cries of the people. Enim fitted a second arrow into the bow. But a second, and it whistled through the air and then struck, shivering. The girl on Miriam's right hand cried out and then was still. For the third time the gong sounded.

With a start Miriam turned towards the King. "I, who am about to die, warn you once more!" Her voice reverberated through the temple. "By your wickedness you have brought down the wrath of the true God, and you are lost! Lost, I tell you! Lost!"

The crowd fell back slightly, shifting uneasily again, scarcely knowing whether to be frightened or to laugh. "I, who am about to die, warn you once more!" Her voice reverberated through the temple. "By your wickedness you have brought down the wrath of the true God, and you are lost! Lost, I tell you! Lost!"

GIRL SLAYER SEEKS PLEA CHANGE

HONOLULU, June 22.—(U.P.)—Attorney for Mary Ann Kekahuna, 28 year old Hawaiian girl, who pleaded guilty to slaying Cid D. Hudgins, Pearl Harbor naval employee, asked permission today to change her plea.

Hudgins was slain by the Kekahuna girl and Mrs. Chuu Gun Oong, according to the later's confession, as they returned by automobile from a party in the country. The Dong woman, who is in the hospital, suffering from injuries received in the death struggle with Hudgins, charged that the man assaulted the Kekahuna girl.

Her attorneys, William B. Pittman and Lono Heen, told Judge Christy that she did not understand the import of her plea to second degree murder for which she was to have been sentenced today. Judge Christy said he would pass on the motion next Saturday.

Woman May Die
Meanwhile the condition of the Dong woman, who has also been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of second degree murder, was reported to be serious.

Miss Jane Hudgins, sister of the slain man, arrived here from Phoenix, Arizona, and announced that she would make every effort to see that justice is done for the murder of her brother.

The body of the naval man was found beside a road near here on May 27. The two women who had wrecked their car following the murder were arrested and after several weeks of grilling are assumed to have confessed the crime.

The Dong woman said Hudgins made her stop the automobile, which she was driving, and that he carried the Kekahuna girl off into the darkness.

When he returned with the girl, Mrs. Dong said she beat him unconscious and then urged the Kekahuna girl to kill him with the handle of an automobile jack.

Mrs. Dong, who is described by police as a "big woman" was injured in the struggle with Hudgins. After slaying the man, Mrs. Dong said they rolled the body off the side of the road.

The City Attorney's office discounted the confession, pointing to the statement of Dr. R. B. Faus, police surgeon, who reported that the only marks found on Hudgins were the result of one terrific blow on the head and a scratch under one eye.

Authorities doubted, they said, the statement of the Dong woman that she first assaulted Hudgins and that the Kekahuna girl, of slight build, dealt the final blow.

SAMMY MANDEL MATCH A NATURAL

By BERT DEMBY
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 22.—(U.P.)—While it created some surprise, the Tony Conzoneri-Sammy Mandell match for the lightweight title to be held here August 24 looked upon generally as the nearest thing to a "natural" that could have been staged between 135 pounders.

Opinions generally favor Mandell, but they likewise agree that Conzoneri, although he probably will be at least three pounds lighter than the champion, is capable of producing an upset.

If the fight goes the limit, Mandell is a five to one bet to win on points. But Tony has a real right hand wallop and there are many willing to take the short end of the odds for this reason.

The death of championship material among the lightweights allowed Conzoneri, a natural 130 pounder, to refuse a match with Ted Morgan, 130 pound champion, and take the promoter Paddy Harmon's offer of a chance at the more lucrative lightweight title. The so-called leading lightweights have been beating each other with such regularity that none of them stand out as a drawing card with the champion.

On the other hand, while he whipped no lightweights, Conzoneri waded through the 130 pounders, beating such men as Joey Sanger, Armand Santiago, Andre Rontis and Ignacio Fernandez. In these fights, he proved himself a man who can both take and give. He was the only man who took Santiago's hard right punch on the jaw and then got up to win.

Church Offers Odd Invitation

PORTLAND, Ore., June 22.—UP—Modern advertising phraseology and appeal are found in the meeting notice submitted to the church editor of a local newspaper by the Rev. John G. Lake, pastor of the church at Portland. "Prayer stalwarts are welcomed," reads the item. "A gracious heaven rain is falling; come and get wet."

Fortune Left To Cambridge College

DERBY, Eng., June 22.—UP—A fortune estimated at $1,250,000 has been left to Cambridge university for the endowment of two chairs in modern scientific research by John Humphrey Plummer, a Southport, Lancashire, property owner and real estate agent, according to the Derby Daily Telegraph.

Prince Can't Get Seat At Movie Show

LONDON, June 22.—UP—Even son of the King of England cannot get a seat in a motion picture theater if it is full.

The other night the secretary of Prince George, youngest son of the king and queen, telephoned a certain cinema house showing an American all-talkie film asking for seats for the prince. The management replied that every seat had been taken 24 hours earlier. The prince often attends the cinema.

Harmony Court In Final Meet

The final meeting before the vacation period was held last night in Masonic hall by Harmony court, Order of Amaranth. A session and a banquet was served. Tables were decorated in pinks with favors in pastel shades. Mrs. Minnie Phillips headed the committee in charge of arrangements. Visitors included matrons and patrons of Bay courts and San Jose.

The next meeting will be held on Aug. 10, when there will be a reception to Mrs. Velma Mae Quinn, worthy matron, and Robert White, worthy patron. Mrs. Phillips will head the committee on arrangements.

Tramps 'Guard' Rum At Prison

THOMASTON, Conn., June 22.—UP—Two tramps were lodged by local police in one of the jail's two cells. Later, a jug of confiscated moonshine was placed for "safe keeping" in the empty cell. Much whoopee awakened jailers in the early morning hours and it was discovered that a broom carelessly left in the tramps' cell, had been used to hook the liquor to within drinking distance.

FARM BLOC TO DO 'HOME WORK'

also find out what the Democrats are going to do. Their position in the senate situation at present is not as strong as their formidable numerical strength would indicate. They can function as a majority only in concert with the Democrats and no one is certain how closely the Democrats will work with them.

May Lose Votes

For instance, when the debenture plan is brought up as a tariff amendment, the Independent bloc may be expected to lose the votes of some southern Democrats who to protect their home industries have indicated they do not desire to complicate the desired tariff bill with the debenture plan. If they get the schedules they want in the tariff bill, they would vote against the debenture. With those three or four southerners, the debentures would not be able to get a majority.

Progressives Vote
Brookhart today issued a pre-departure statement in which he said he believed "the progressives have the votes" for the Norris debenture amendment, revised so that the tariff bounty certificates would be paid to the federal farm board and kept out of the hands of exporters and speculators.

"Of course, the original debenture proposition would have issued many of the certificates to the stabilization corporations, but through the farm board they should all go to these corporations and perform all the functions of the equalization fee," Brookhart stated. "In this form the debenture proposition should not be offensive to the house, and I believe it can command a good majority of support."

SEARCH STARTS FOR DARING YEGG TRIO

Suddenly one of the men got up and covered the passengers with his gun.

Brakeman Menaced

The other, described as a man about 45 years old, ordered rear brakeman F. A. Heikka of 2915 Maple street, Berkeley to "pull" the air signal which stopped the train while the younger bandit ran forward toward the engine. Engineer J. H. Barnes, 1554 Bridge street, Oakland, quickly applied the emergency brakes and the train came to a halt.

Behind them, on the highway, a grey Hudson car was parked with a woman sitting in the front seat and another man standing along the right-of-way, a machine gun in his hands, Barnes said.

Engineer Shot
The younger bandit climbed into the cab and leveled his pistol at the engineer, ordered Barnes to back up to the car. Instead of complying, Barnes reached for the gun and grappled with the bandit. The bandit broke loose and fired a shot which took effect in Barnes' left shoulder. The firemen, W. K. Jensen of Alameda had no opportunity to aid the engineer.

Barnes described his assailant as between 25 and 30 years of age, weighing about 150 pounds, five feet seven inches in height with brown eyes and dark hair. He was wearing a blue serge suit with a "loud" necktie.

After the train was backed up to the waiting automobile, the bandits let the water out of the locomotive boiler and tender so that a switch engine had to be sent from Port Costa to take the train to Tracy.

In the meantime, the older man knocked at the door of the mail car and backed Mail Clerk George Tyler, 2714 Viola street, Oakland, into a corner and demanded the "payroll."

Clerk Cursed
When Tyler declared that he did not know of any payroll, the bandit cursed him and shot two times into the floor of the car near Tyler's feet. Throwing Tyler from the car, the bandit rifled the sixteen mail sacks and took a number of packages.

Porting passengers and train crew to lie down in a ditch along the right-of-way, the bandits drove away from the scene. Later yesterday afternoon a car, dynamited and burned, was found abandoned at the Concord cemetery. The license number was checked with the motor vehicle department. Records showed that the machine had been sold last week to James Hendrix, 655 Laguna street, Los Angeles.

Car Cashed
Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa county, expressed belief yesterday that the bandits had dynamited the car and had made off toward Oakland with another machine they had cached near Concord.

Oakland officials expressed belief that the car burned at Concord was similar to the one used when two bandits attempted to kidnap William Cley, employee of a soft drink establishment at Oakland while he was taking $7500 to the bank.

Barnes, the engineer, is in the county hospital at Martinez in a serious condition. The bullet has been removed from his shoulder.

Acting Agent in charge of postal inspectors, R. W. Madden of Oakland, declared yesterday that three packages, containing $16,000 consigned to valley banks, had been stolen.

During the hunt yesterday, Richmond patrolmen were stationed at the ferries, rail stations and on main roads leading into the city in a search for the bandits.
